On Sunday, November 27, 2022, at approximately 0116 hours, I responded to West Indiantown Road and Center Street in reference to a single-vehicle crash. Before arrival, police dispatch advised that the vehicle was facing westbound in the eastbound lanes attempting to back up. Upon arrival, I observed a Silver 2019 Genesis G70 bearing FL Tag#IDYU29 stopped in the eastbound lanes facing westbound with front-end, under-carriage, and tire damage. The car was not running due to being disabled by the crash. One white female driver occupied the vehicle, later identified by Florida Drivers' license as Hayla Ryan (W/F, 04/09/2002). I observed two High Noon alcoholic beverages. One was on the front passenger floorboard, and the other was behind the driver seat on the floorboard. Both were cold to the touch, with condensation on them, fully emptied, and on the floorboard that was still wet. While speaking with Ryan, the strong odor of an unknown alcoholic beverage emanating from her breath that intensified as she spoke, and her eyes were bloodshot/glassy. I asked Ryan for her driver's license, registration, and proof of insurance. Ryan then handed me her medical marijuana card. I pointed out that her license was in her wallet, to which she looked past it again and proceeded to hand me a credit card. Ryan had the key to the vehicle in her purse. Ryan appeared to be very uncoordinated and had slowed responses to my questions. When I asked Ryan what happened, she stated that she was leaving Johnny Mangos (a local bar), where she was going to pick up her boyfriend. I asked Ryan to step out of the vehicle, and when she did, she was very uneasy on her feet, swaying back and forth. I advised Ryan that I found her at fault for the crash, and now I am going to be changing hats from a civil crash investigation to a criminal DUI investigation and read her Miranda warnings from a pre-printed card. She stated she understood, and I requested that she participate in standardized field sobriety exercises based on the aforementioned events, to which she agreed.

The first task I began with the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus task. I instructed Ryan to stand with her feet touching (heel & toes) and to keep her arms down at her side. I demonstrated to Ryan that she would be following my stimulus (red light) with her eyes and her eyes only and to keep her head still at all times. Ryan stated that she understood the instructions and was ready for me to continue. Ryan's eyes had no resting nystagmus in either eye, and both eyes tracked together equally. I observed a lack of smooth pursuit in both eyes, distinct and sustained nystagmus at maximum deviation in both eyes, and the onset of nystagmus prior to 45 degrees in both eyes. During the task, Ryan was noticeably swaying back and forth.

The second task was the walk and turn. I instructed/demonstrated Ryan to stand on the white road line with her left foot on the line with her right foot touching her left foot (heel to toe) with her arms at her side. Before I could finish my instructional phase, she started to walk down the line without being instructed to do so and took over ten steps before turning around and asking what to do. I attempted to instruct/demonstrate to Ryan again how to complete the task, and she once again walked down the line without being told to begin, missing heel-to-toe, stepping off the line, and making an improper turn.

The third task was One-Leg Stand. I instructed Ryan to stand with her feet together and arms down at her side. I instructed/demonstrated to Ryan to pick either her right or left leg and raise it approximately six inches off the ground while keeping both legs straight and arms down at her side. I instructed/demonstrated to Ryan to make sure she looks at her foot at all times and count out loud in the following manner "one thousand one, one thousand two..." until I tell you to stop. Ryan did not raise her leg in the manner instructed/demonstrated nor count out loud or look at her foot. Ryan was swaying, using her arms for balance, and putting her foot down twice.

The fourth task was the finger-to-nose. I instructed Ryan to stand with her feet touching (heel & toes) and to keep her arms down at her side with her pointer fingers pointed outward. I instructed/demonstrated to Ryan that I would call left (L) or right (R); when I do, with her head tilted back and eyes closed, she would take the tip of the finger I called and touch it to the tip of her nose. She stated she understood and did not have any questions. Ryan could not follow directions during this task by keeping her head forward instead of tilting back and did not touch the tip of her finger to the tip of her nose as instructed. When she was reminded to tilt her head back, she started the task over again without being told to do so.

The fifth and final task was the Romberg Alphabet. I instructed Ryan to stand with her feet touching (heel & toes) and to keep her arms down at her side. She was instructed to tilt her head back and close her eyes while reciting the alphabet in a non-rhythmical manner. During this task, Ryan rhymed the alphabet, said the alphabet incorrectly

(abcdlmnoghijklmnogqrstwrz), and swayed visibly during the task. Based on my investigation, observations, and totality of circumstances, I had probable cause to believe that Hayla Ryan was in actual physical control of a vehicle while under the influence of an alcoholic beverage, chemical, or controlled substance, to the point where her normal faculties were impaired, contrary to F.S 316.193. She was placed into handcuffs at 0139 hours, double-locked, and checked for proper spacing per department policy. I transported Ryan to the Jupiter Medical center for medical clearance and subsequently transported her to the Palm Beach County Breath Alcohol Testing center, arriving at 0306 hours. I placed Ryan under a 20-minute observation period, during which she neither consumed nor regurgitated anything. We then went on video with BAT technician Leahey #19183. I requested that Ryan provide a breath sample. She agreed and provided two breath samples of .217 and .204. I placed Ryan in holding while all necessary paperwork was completed and subsequently booked her into the Palm Beach County Jail. She was given a criminal court date of 01/04/2023, 0830 hours. Ryan's vehicle was towed from the scene by Kauffs Towing. The above incident was captured on BWC. This narrative is a summary of the events and is not purported to be verbatim.
