Jesse informed me that the argument began over suspicions of infidelity. Jesse stated that the argument escalated to physical violence when he grabbed Claire's phone and she tried to retrieve it. It was at this point that Jesse said that Claire began scratching and biting him in order to get him to release her phone. Jesse advised that he had surveillance footage of the incident. He was sent an evidence.com link, and he uploaded the footage. Upon review of the video footage, I could clearly see Jesse take the phone from Claire and she verbally tells him to give it back to which he refuses. At that point Claire began trying to grab the phone as Jesse moved away and ran around the room. Claire began scratching and biting Jesse resulting in the marks seen on Jesse's body. During this exchange Claire pulled Jesse's hair, and Jesse forcefully slammed Claire's head into the wall. Crime scene responded and took photos of Jesse's injuries, which included multiple scratches and teeth marks to his arms, chest and neck area. Shortly after, officers responded to Claire's residence at 1782 Hammock Way. Claire advised that on 9/23/26 she was involved in a domestic dispute with Jesse Coursey. Claire explained that Jesse was mad at her because he believed she was cheating on him. Claire provided video evidence showing Jesse throwing her on the floor as well as the video of Jesse slamming her head into the wall. Claire sustained minor injuries to her head, which included slight bruising. Crime scene took photos of her injury. Due to conflicting statements and surveillance footage, it is unclear who the primary aggressor is. As a result, both were taken into custody and transported to DBPD holding facility for processing. It should be noted that both parties advised they have lived together for the past 4 months and are actively dating. It is confirmed that Jesse has a key to the residence that was provided by Claire.

Based on the above facts, probable cause exists to charge Claire Deyoe with F.S.S. 784.03(1A1) Simple Battery (domestic).
