On the 13 day of February, 2024 at 21:16 (Specifically include facts constituting cause for arrest.) On 02/13/2024 at approximately 2054 hours, I was conducting speed enforcement in the 2100 block of S.R. 811 (S Alternate A1A) in the Town of Jupiter, Palm Beach County, Florida. At the time, I was parked in the median break between the northbound and southbound lanes of S.R. 811 just outside of the Three Palms Plaza (2141 S Alternate A1A). I was driving an unmarked Jupiter Police Department patrol vehicle (vehicle 1911), I was wearing a JPD uniform clearly identifying myself as a Jupiter Police Officer, and I was wearing my department-issued Axon body camera. I was stopped (facing northbound) and Sergeant Cook was parked next to me (facing southbound). I observed a green 2019 Nissan SUV bearing FL tag # BW491A traveling southbound on S.R. 811 in the center lane at a speed I believed to be greatly exceeding the posted 50 MPH speed limit. I visually estimated the vehicle to be traveling near 100 MPH. I activated the front antenna of my Stalker DSR2X radar unit (S/N DB022361) in stationary, closing mode and received a digital speed readout along with an accompanying audio doppler tone of 93 MPH. I advised Sergeant Cook of the speeding vehicle and, as it passed the driver side of my patrol car both the digital speed readout and audio doppler tone ceased indicating the Nissan was, in fact, the target vehicle and that it had traveled outside of the operational range of my radar unit. Sergeant Cook immediately departed his position to conduct a traffic stop on the Nissan and I waited to make a u-turn but caught up to Sergeant Cook and the Nissan approximately one-half mile south of where I originally observed it. At this time, the Nissan had slowed and was traveling approximately 60 MPH as we were passing through the intersection of Admiral's Cove Blvd. The Nissan was still in the southbound center lane. I observed Sergeant Cook activate his overhead emergency lights behind the Nissan. The Nissan was the only vehicle in the area traveling southbound at the time. I observed the Nissan change lanes to the inside southbound lane, continue southbound for approximately 1,000 feet, then enter the southbound left turn lane just north of the intersection with W Frederick Small Rd. Typically, when conducting traffic stops in this area, violators will stop almost immediately after entering this turn lane. The Nissan instead continued traveling southbound while slowing down, all the way up to the red traffic control signal at the intersection. The entire shoulder of the roadway along S.R. 811 is grass and the Nissan had plenty of opportunity to safely pull off the roadway and stop, well before where it ended up stopping. As Sergeant Cook was approaching, I observed the Nissan slowly inching forward, towards the intersection. The Nissan traveled for a distance and time long enough for me to stay in my vehicle while Sergeant Cook made contact with the driver, in case the driver proceeded when the light turned green. Additionally, I was considering employing the boxing-in technique as the vehicle was traveling southbound due to the time it took for the driver to ultimately pull over. When Sergeant Cook made contact with the driver, I approached on the passenger side. I observed the driver, who I later identified to be Dena Curbelo (w/f; 08/06/1971; FL DL # C614-173-71-786-0), as the only occupant of the vehicle. I remained at the passenger side of the vehicle and observed Curbelo's facial expression gave me the indication she was annoyed that she was stopped. When Sergeant Cook returned to his patrol vehicle, I returned with him. I questioned Sergeant Cook on whether or not he believed Curbelo was under the influence, as I could not hear the conversation between them. Sergeant Cook advised he was unsure and advised me to speak with Curbelo while he completed the citation. See supplement from Sergeant Cook. I approached the vehicle on the driver side and made contact with Curbelo. I observed Curbelo had glassy eyes. I requested Curbelo provide her registration and insurance documentation, since Sergeant Cook did not have that information yet, and Curbelo retrieved them from next to an empty wine glass in the center console area. As I spoke with Curbelo, she was very agitated, hostile, and argumentative - behavior generally uncommon from someone pulled over to traveling almost double the posted speed limit. Curbelo advised she believed she was traveling around the speed limit and that she was looking at her phone, which was rested on her leg, when the violation occurred. Curbelo then went on to state that she was unable to be stopped for anything less than 10 MPH over the speed limit. Curious as to where she came up with that inaccurate statement, I asked if Curbelo was a lawyer. Curbelo stated she was and that she practiced speed law at a firm in Miami. I continued questioning Curbelo about the specifics of this supposed law firm and she became argumentative, asking why I needed to know all this information. I advised Curbelo it was due to the fact that I did not believe she was actually a lawyer. Curbelo then immediately advised that she did not believe I was a Jupiter Police Officer.

	I remained at the window speaking with Curbelo who advised she was coming from Double Roads Tavern, where her alcohol business was holding an event. I again questioned Curbelo on her employment as a lawyer, as she had previously stated, and she stated she was not - that she was just messing with me. The entire time I was speaking with Curbelo, her behavior was very unusual. Although I could not smell the odor of alcohol from inside the vehicle or coming from her breath, the excessive speed, time it took Curbelo to stop, her glassy eyes, and her general hostile demeanor, I requested she exit the vehicle. Curbelo jovially agreed and made a statement that I was asking her to step out so I could get a better look at her outside the vehicle. I advised Curbelo that I was concerned she was driving under the influence and requested she perform Standardized Field Sobriety Tasks (SFSTs). Curbelo agreed. Curbelo stated she did not take any medications nor have any medical issues. Curbelo was wearing high-heeled boots and I asked if she was comfortable walking in them. Curbelo advised she was. I then returned to my vehicle to retrieve a stimulus to proceed with the SFSTs. While at my vehicle, I could hear Curbelo arguing with Sergeant Cook. I returned to Sergeant Cook and Curbelo and determined the argument was over me asking Curbelo if she was comfortable walking in her boots. I advised Curbelo that I wanted her to perform as well as she could and that I would feel better if she removed her boots. Curbelo then removed her boots, attempting to grab onto me for stability while she did so. Due to her demeanor, I stepped back and did not allow Curbelo to touch me. I advised Curbelo she could use the front of Sergeant Cook's patrol vehicle for stability. When Curbelo removed her shoes, I started the Horizontal Gaze Nystagmus Task. Curbelo advised she did not have any issues with her eyes and that she wore reading glasses that were still in her car. I am a certified Drug Recognition Expert (IACP # 32395) and I conducted this task in accordance with my training. I observed Curbelo had pupils of equal approximate size, she did not have resting nystagmus, and she was able to equally track a horizontally-moving stimulus. I observed Curbelo had Lack of Smooth Pursuit and Distinct and Sustained Nystagmus at Maximum Deviation in both her eyes. I did not observe the Onset of Nystagmus prior to 45 Degrees or Vertical Gaze Nystagmus in either eye. Throughout the task, Curbelo moved her head and I instructed her to keep her head still. I next conducted the Walk and Turn. When told to begin, Curbelo missed heel-to-toe on step 2 and stopped briefly to maintain her balance. Curbelo continued walking and had her arms raised more than 6 inches from her sides from step 3 all the way through to step 9. Curbelo again missed heel-to-toe on steps 4 and 9. Curbelo took 9 steps before turning. Curbelo turned and stopped again to ask me if she turned properly. I did not respond. Curbelo then began walking back down the line and missed heel-to-toe on steps 2, 4, 6, and 9. Curbelo again took 9 steps back down the line. I then conducted the One Leg Stand task. When advised to begin, Curbelo raised her right leg off the ground and immediately raised her arms more than 6 inches from her sides to maintain her balance. I reminded Curbelo to watch her foot as she counted aloud. On Curbelo's count of 1011, she placed her foot on the ground and asked if I wanted her to continue. I advised her to continue until told to stop. Curbelo then took a moment, asked me if she needed to raise the same leg, raised her right leg off the ground again, and starting counting over again from 1001. When 30 seconds had elapsed, I stopped the task. Before the Finger to Nose, Curbelo demonstrated to me she knew her right from her left. The cadence for this task was: Left, Right, Left, Right, Right, Left. Curbelo stood with her head tilted back and eyes open for the majority of the instructions. When told to begin, Curbelo failed to tilt her head back and close her eyes, as instructed. On every call of this task, Curbelo touched the pad of her appropriate finger to the tip of her nose. On the first call of left, Curbelo did not immediately return her arm to her side until I instructed her to. On the final call of right, Curbelo moved her left hand but quickly corrected herself. Curbelo advised her highest level of education was an associate degree and that she could perform the alphabet from A to Z. Curbelo performed this task appropriately. Based on Curbelo's performance on SFSTs, I placed her under arrest for DUI. While putting the handcuffs on, Curbelo was pulling her arms and becoming increasingly more and more agitated. Sergeant Cook and I had to almost drag Curbelo to the passenger side of my patrol vehicle, as she was attempting to stop us from walking forward with her feet. When Sergeant Cook opened the rear passenger door of my patrol vehicle, I instructed Curbelo to enter and she began pulling away from me. I took a step forward and held Curbelo in the open door jam of my vehicle until she calmed down. I instructed Curbelo to sit in my vehicle and she complied but refused to per her foot inside the car for several minutes. I requested at roadside Curbelo provide a lawful sample of her breath for the purpose of determining the alcohol content. Curbelo refused. I began reading Curbelo Implied Consent from a prepared text and, about halfway through, Curbelo began demanding I give her her phone. I attempted to get Curbelo to listen to the remainder of Implied Consent but she was apparently not interested and yelling over me about her phone. I ended up reading the entirety of Implied Consent while Curbelo yelled at me. I asked if Curbelo understood and she continued yelling. I ultimately determined Curbelo was either too intoxicated to comprehend what I was saying or unwilling to provide a breath sample and I called a refusal at 2130 hours.

It was not until I was interacting with Curbelo in the rear of my police vehicle that I could smell the odor of an unknown alcoholic beverage. I still could not smell the odor directly on Curbelo`s breath but the sectioned-off prisoner compartment of my patrol vehicle smelled more and more heavily of alcohol the longer Curbelo sat in there. Based on the aforementioned facts resulting from my investigation, I find Probable Cause exists to charge Dena Curbelo with DUI - Normal Faculties Impaired pursuant to FSS 316.193 (1) (a) .
