-- Samantha Jacqueline Yarusso Arrest Narrative:
On January 30, 2024, I was conducting proactive patrol in the area of Chasewood Plaza in Jupiter, Florida. I observed a dark blue Nissan traveling at a high rate of speed going west on Indiantown Road. I paced the vehicle with my vehicle (1705) at 64 miles per hour in a posted 45 mile per hour zone between Chasewood and Maplewood on Indiantown Road.

I activated my overhead red and blue lights and put my spotlight on the vehicle. The vehicle indicated it was aware of the traffic stop being conducted by activating it left blinker and pulling into the turn lane in the center of he roadway on Indiantown Road just west of Maplewood Drive. I made contact with the registered owner and sole occupant of the vehicle Samantha Jacqueline Yarusso (W/F 10/25/1998). I informed her for the reason for the traffic stop and he observed violations. I asked if she was speeding for a particular reason and she indicated she was dropping food off to a friend who worked at a nearby bar. She did have a food container in the passenger compartment of her vehicle.

I ran Yarusso through NCIC/FCIC which indicated she held no active writs or warrants. Yarusso was asked to exit her vehicle. I returned her license to her and informed her she would not be receiving a citation for the observed violation and merely given a warning. I returned her drivers license to her and informed her she was free to leave. I asked her if I could search her vehicle and she told me I could. She then asked me to wait and asked what I would be searching for in her vehicle. I informed her of what I would be looking for and she told me I could search the vehicle a second time.

A search of the vehicle produced items commonly used for marijuana and cocaine consumption however they were merely indicators as they contained no apparent usage. The items included rolling papers and straws among other small items. I searched a black purse which was on the passengers seat of the vehicle. This was the same bag which Yarusso pulled her wallet and drivers license from at the beginning of the traffic stop. A search of the bag produced a small pink bag containing a white powder. Due to my training and experience I immediately recognized this to be consistent with illicit narcotics.

Yarusso was secured utilizing agency issued handcuffs which were checked for fit and double locked for safety and comfort. She was told her Miranda rights and asked if she wished to speak with me which she told me she did. I asked her if the powder in her vehicle was cocaine or fentanyl for safety, as the two substances look very similar prior to field testing. She told me if there was anything in her vehicle it would no contain fentanyl and it would be cocaine. She proceeded to tell me she had took it from a friend over the weekend and it was not hers despite being the sole occupant in the vehicle and the baggie being in the same purse which produced her drivers license. She also indicated it was for personal use and not for resale.

Yarusso was placed in the rear of my patrol vehicle and transported to JPD for processing. The pink baggie was field presumptive positive for cocaine in the amount of .18 grams. She was then transported to the Palm Beach County Jail for possession of cocaine without incident. Due to Yarusso being transported to jail, her vehicle was towed by All Hooked Up. Her cash was transported with her to the jail with the jewelry she was wearing at the time.
