Marth did advise to me on sworn video statement that the fire alarm did in fact disturb his evening at home, causing him to evacuate.

I then spoke with Daniel Warner, resident of apartment [REDACTED] who ran downstairs and approached officers. Daniel's face was actively bleeding and swollen and he appeared to be out of breath. Daniel was bleeding from his nose and mouth, and was swollen above his left eye. Daniel told me that he and his [REDACTED] later identified as [REDACTED] got into a fight. Daniel advised they both had been drinking this evening, and possibly had too much. Daniel could not recall what the argument was about but that it was a mutual [REDACTED] fight, and that they both hit each other first. Post Miranda warnings Daniel could not remember if he pulled the fire alarm.

[REDACTED] shortly thereafter came downstairs and approached officers on the first floor. [REDACTED] had a laceration to the left side of his nose, swelling throughout his face, and appeared to be intoxicated. [REDACTED] advised that he came to Daniel's residence for dinner. He and Daniel were both drinking and a verbal argument ensued. [REDACTED] advised that Daniel hit him first, and that Daniel pulled the fire alarm.

The fire alarm that was activated was on the second floor near the stairwell, approximately fifteen feet away from apartment [REDACTED]. Marth identified Daniel to be the only person in the hallway directly after the fire alarm was pulled, although Daniel advised that his brother pulled the alarm. I observed the inside of the apartment and I did not locate any fire alarm stations inside. I observed obvious signs of struggle in the main area of the apartment, there were bloody hand prints on the walls, fresh blood droplets on the floor throughout the room, a broken wine glass, and a cooking tray on the floor near the couch.

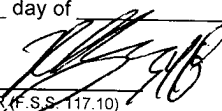

Based on my investigation, I find Daniel and [REDACTED] to be mutual combatants and do find probable cause for Simple Battery (domestic) contrary to F.S.S. 784.03(1)(A)(1). Daniel and [REDACTED] argument did lead to the fire alarm being pulled, and evacuation of the building ensued, therefore I also find probable cause for Disorderly Conduct (Breach of Peace) contrary to F.S.S. 877.03.
