ON THE 20th DAY OF December 20 18 AT 11:41 PM ☒ AM ☐ PM
SUBJECT: McFaddon Christoffers Eileen H CASE NUMBER: 18-006126
AGENCY: Jupiter Police Department ARRESTING OFFICER: Craig Yochum # 383

PERSONAL CONTACT

DRIVING PATTERN: ACTUAL PHYSICAL CONTROL (PHYSICAL EVIDENCE OR STATEMENTS PUTTING DEF. BEHIND WHEEL OF VEHICLE)

On the aforementioned date at approximately 2339 hours, I was on routine patrol in the area of S.R. 706 (W Indiantown Rd.) and C.R. 809 (Military Trl.) in the Town of Jupiter, Palm Beach County, FL. At the time, I was driving a fully-marked Jupiter Police Department patrol vehicle (vehicle 1413), I was wearing a JPD uniform clearly identifying myself as a Jupiter Police Officer, and I was wearing my department-issued Axon body camera. I received a message on my department-issued laptop from PFC Counts advising me he observed a vehicle behind him traveling with its high beams on and stopping in the roadway. A short time after, I heard PFC Counts conduct a traffic stop over the police radio and I responded to the scene. Upon arrival, I observed a white 2011 Lexus 4-door sedan bearing FL tag # GBQE02 stopped in the entrance to the Summerwinds community (intersection of C.R. 809 and Jupiter Lakes Blvd.). The vehicle was stopped just west of C.R. 809 completely blocking the entrance to the community. When I arrived on scene, PFC Counts was standing outside the open driver door of the vehicle, speaking with the driver. See supplement from PFC Counts.

OBSERVATION OF DRIVER:

I approached the vehicle on the passenger side and stood outside the front passenger door. All windows of the violator's vehicle were rolled up and the driver door was open. I shined my flashlight inside the vehicle and observed the driver, later identified by her valid Class E Florida driver license to be Eileen McFadden Christoffers (w/f; 12/10/1964), and sole occupant of the vehicle searching through multiple papers in the car. I heard PFC Counts request McFadden Christoffers' driver license multiple times before she provided him with it. I also heard PFC Counts request McFadden Christoffers' registration and insurance information. I observed one registration in the open glove compartment of McFadden Christoffers' vehicle and one in her lap but she did not provide PFC Counts with either. Although I was standing on the passenger side of the vehicle with the window rolled up, I could smell the strong odor of an unknown alcoholic beverage wafting over the top of the vehicle, from the driver side. I made contact with McFadden Christoffers and observed she had bloodshot/glassy eyes and dilated pupils. I noted she had extremely slurred speech and the odor of an unknown alcoholic beverage on her breath, which intensified as she spoke. After asking McFadden Christoffers to exit her vehicle, I noted she was unsteady on her feet and appeared to have trouble keeping her balance.

DRIVER'S STATEMENTS:

McFadden Christoffers advised she was coming from an event in Boynton Beach. McFadden Christoffers denied drinking anything earlier in the evening, despite my observations. When I asked McFadden Christoffers how intoxicated she felt on a scale of 1 to 10 (with one being completely sober and 10 being the most intoxicated she had ever been in her life), McFadden Christoffers could only advise "I'm fine."

ODORS:

Strong odor of unknown alcoholic beverage inside vehicle and on McFadden Christoffers' breath as she spoke.

GENERAL OBSERVATIONS

SPEECH: Heavily slurred

ATTITUDE: Cooperative, Annoyed, Rambling, Apparently unable to follow simple instructions

CLOTHING: Black long-sleeved shirt, Black pants, Black high-heels

MEDICAL/OTHER: McFadden Christoffers advised she is a Cancer patient and she takes Anastrozole daily.

RT EYE-DISTINCT & SUSTAINED NYSTAGMUS AT MAX DEVIATION

LT- EYE-ONSET OF NYSTAGMUS PRIOR TO 45 DEGREES

RT- EYE-ONSET OF NYSTAGMUS PRIOR TO 45 DEGREES

Other Observations:

McFadden Christoffers had to be reminded multiple times to keep her head still and follow the stimulus with her eyes only. McFadden Christoffers was apparently unable to perform the task without moving her head, despite being advised to keep her head still on many occasions. Due to McFadden Christoffers apparent inability to follow instructions to complete this task, I terminated the task.

WALK & TURN:

McFadden Christoffers initially wanted to keep her high-heels on for the duration of the task. Due to her extreme unsteadiness on her feet, I requested McFadden Christoffers take her heels off and she complied. When McFadden Christoffers removed one shoe, she lost her balance to the rear and laid her back on the hood of my patrol vehicle. I attempted multiple times to instruct McFadden Christoffers to stand in the starting position (left foot on the line, right foot in front with heel of right foot touching toe of left foot) and she never managed to stay in the starting position. McFadden Christoffers repeatedly advised she performs pilates and walked down the line several times before being told. Due to the fact that McFadden Christoffers was obviously not listening to my instructions or apparently not willing to follow the instructions, I advised McFadden Christoffers of her Taylor Warnings on two separate occasions. McFadden Christoffers advised she wished to continue but she ultimately never listened to the instructions to stand in the starting position. After several more attempts to explain the starting position to McFadden Christoffers, I determined she was either not willing or too intoxicated to follow instructions for this task and moved on, intending to attempt the Walk and Turn task at the end of the other roadside tasks.

ONE LEG STAND:

While giving the instructions, McFadden Christoffers stood with her arms folded across her chest and not with her arms to her sides, as instructed. McFadden Christoffers raised her leg off the ground multiple times before being told to begin. I advised her twice not to start the task until told to do so and McFadden Christoffers did not listen and I ultimately stopped telling her to put her foot down. McFadden Christoffers advised she understood the instructions and did not have any questions. McFadden Christoffers raised her right foot off the ground (with her arms out to her sides, like an airplane). Shortly after lifting her foot off the ground, McFadden Christoffers placed her foot back down and repeated this procedure of lifting either her left or right leg for a very short period of time before placing the foot back down on the ground. McFadden Christoffers initially did not count out loud and appeared to lose her balance before placing her foot down to steady herself each time. McFadden Christoffers swayed from side-to-side and front-to-back throughout the duration of the task while either leg was lifted.

FINGER TO NOSE:

McFadden Christoffers demonstrated knowledge of her left and right hands prior to the administration of the exercise. While explaining the side, pad, and tip of her finger, McFadden Christoffers reached forward, pinched my index finger between the first and second knuckle and advised I had tiny fingers. On the first call of left, McFadden Christoffers touched the pad of her left index finger to the tip of her nose and opened her eyes. I advised her to keep her eyes closed, and she stated "I did!", closed her eyes and again touched the pad of her left index finger to the tip of her nose, opening her eyes before touching her nose to locate pad of finger to tip of nose. On the first call of right, McFadden Christoffers touched the pad of her right index finger to the tip of her nose before correcting, and again opened her eyes. McFadden Christoffers folded her arms in front of her chest. I again advised McFadden Christoffers to keep her eyes closed. On the second call of left, McFadden Christoffers touched the pad of her left index finger to the bridge of her nose and again opened her eyes. At this time, I determined McFadden Christoffers was unable to complete the task and terminated the exercise.

ROMBERG ALPHABET:

When instructed to recite the alphabet from A to Z, McFadden Christoffers opened her eyes wide and gasped, as if she was shocked and began reciting the alphabet before being instructed. I told her to stop and McFadden Christoffers again folded her arms in front of her chest for the remainder of the instruction period. McFadden Christoffers asked why I was asking her to complete this task and I again advised her of her Taylor Warnings. McFadden Christoffers advised she understood the instructions and rambled on about having a child at home. I gave the instructions to McFadden Christoffers a second time, having to repeat almost everything I told her at least twice. McFadden Christoffers advised she understood and recited the following: "ABCDEF..." then advised she was unable to do "the whole thing" stating she was tired and worked "a lot." At this point, I determined McFadden Christoffers was not willing to follow any instructions and placed her under arrest for DUI.
